

75%

of women diagnosed with breast cancer have no family history or other factors that put them at risk.

100% of your patients will be grateful if you tell them.

Let your patients know the facts. And urge them to start annual mammograms at 40.

Every major American medical organization experienced in breast cancer care recommends that women start getting annual mammograms at age 40. Because one in six breast cancers occur in women in their 40s. And studies show that regular mammograms cut breast cancer deaths by nearly 40 percent in all women 40 and over. Encourage your patients to get annual mammograms as soon as they turn 40.

Patient information and accredited mammography centers can be found at:

mammographsaveslives.org |

Mammography Saves Lives™

... one of them may be yours